Its nickname is simply "The Big One." And its fame is worldwide. Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is one of the greatest ski areas in North America. Spread over 2,500 square acres of bowls, faces, chutes, glades, and ridges, Jackson Hole Mountain Resort features steep terrain, deep powder, and numerous backcountry acres. A variety of groomed runs and open bowls are also available for beginners and intermediates. Snowboarding is allowed on 100% of the terrain. A super-pipe and a terrain park are also offered both skiers and riders. The ski resort is located at Teton Village, Wyoming, 12 miles northwest of the town of Jackson.

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is made up of two mountains within the beautiful Grand Teton mountain range of northwest Wyoming. Apres Vous Mountain is Jackson Hole's intermediate mountain, with over 2100 vertical feet of groomers and glades, while the base of the mountain levels off into gentle beginner slopes. Rendezvous Mountain offers the steep, exciting terrain that Jackson Hole is famous for: chutes, bowls, couloirs and glades. The mountain also provides advanced intermediate groomers and cruisers. With vertical drop of 4,139 vertical feet from the valley floor to an altitude of 10,450 feet (3,185 meters), you can enjoy some of the best consistent fall line skiing and riding in the world.

Of course, the snow isn't the only attraction during the winter at Jackson Hole. Gourmet restaurants, art galleries and countless shops can be found throughout the valley, and line the boardwalks of the famous Jackson Town Square.
